Re: AT&T Corp. Petition for Declaratory Ruling Regarding Enhanced Prepaid Calling Card Services, WC Docket No. 03-133

Dear Chairman Powell:

Dollar Tree Stores, Inc. hereby submits this letter, pursuant to WC Docket No. 03-133, to register support for AT&T's Enhanced Prepaid Calling Card Petition currently under discussion at the FCC.

Dollar Tree sells AT&T's enhanced prepaid cards in 2,200 stores in 48 states. In line with our mission of selling merchandise for a single price of $1.00, we strive to fill a unique market niche by offering products that are moderately priced and offer great value.

Dollar Tree Stores has just recently begun offering an AT&T enhanced prepaid card. It has been an overwhelming success with our customers. Our retail price is fixed at $1 and has been since we began the company in 1986. Therefore, any increase in cost of the product would cause us to discontinue offering this item to our customers.

The FCC will, in effect, be denying millions of consumers the ability to enjoy the value and quality that our Dollar Tree enhanced prepaid cards provide. Your action will have negative consequences for consumers and, frankly, for our business.

We understand that alternative proposals being made to the FCC will add charges that are many times higher than the charges now included in current enhanced prepaid card prices. Dollar Tree respectfully requests that the Commission concurs with AT&T's statements and issues an order upholding their petition.

Respectfully submitted,

Robert H. Rudman
Chief Merchandise Officer
Dollar Tree Stores, Inc.
